Brighton Publishing announced the sale of 5000 advance copies of "The Viper Contract" by its recently signed author C.M. Broyhill prior to the book's public release.

Brighton Publishing was pleased to announce the sale of 5000 advance copies of "The Viper Contract" by recently signed author C.M. Broyhill, to Atlantic Aviation.

According to Kathie McGuire, Director of Brighton Publishing, "this is merely an indication of the popularity this book will achieve. When we had an opportunity to acquire this book from Mr. Broyhill's agent, Anita Melograna of the Crosswind Agency, we wasted little time in pursuing negotiations for acquisition."

Synopsis

Several years after a bitter retirement from the Air Force, former fighter pilot Colin Pearce found a second career: Flying Gulfstream and Falcon business jets as a daily contractor. Between the constant travel and his extensive Single-Malt Scotch collection, he manages to keep the demons of his past where they belong. It's a lucrative, solitary existence and that's the way he likes it.

But then he takes a phone call while making a connection in the Atlanta airport and his life changes forever. Meeting with several CIA Operatives, Colin is once again drawn into action as an F-16 fighter pilot, but this time he may be on the losing side. His skills are not the only reason the CIA wants him. They also know enough about Pearce's dark side to be confident he'll do what must be done. Pearce has lived his life by a single creed: "I'd rather be lucky than good." With lottery-like odds against his survival, he's going to have to be very lucky indeed.
